Dear Audience Member,

Upon first sitting in the audience of the Broadway production of Something Rotten it quickly became one of my favorite musicals. The blend of wit, humor, and corniness were a love letter to Shakespeare, even in a show that painted him as the villain. The references that dig deep into Shakespeare's folios and creatively nod to the fellow Shake-o-files in the audience were so clever. All of it wrapped in a hilarious comedy, one that was bawdy and blue (as you may find a few times in tonight's show) and fast paced. Something Shakespeare's shows would have had at the time that they were smash hits in Elizabethan England. The audiences at the Globe weren't above a clever butt joke - and neither I have to admit am I. Then add in the absolute hit songs and dance numbers, and this show has just about everything a theatre lover could want.

But a show with that much to offer is no small undertaking. You will see that a show that moves that quickly and brings so much to the audience is like a marathon for performers and technicians. Many may think that Broadway was where a show like this belonged and where it should stay. But without hesitation, when Ms. Donovan (our choreographer) suggested that we tackle this show with the drama club this year, I jumped at the chance. We truly believe there is nothing that the cast and crew of the RMHS Drama Club cannot achieve.

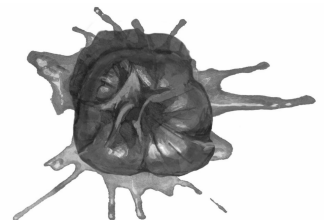

Tonight you will see the outcome of just over two months of endless efforts, and immense talents. Lots of long days and even longer evenings have gone into bringing you tonight's performance. What you won't see, and is our express privilege as these students' teachers, is the growth and momentous achievements each student has made since auditioning or interviewing for this show in the first days of school. To this moment, I will often brim with tears of pride, and shake off goosebumps watching them all shine. Bravo to the cast and crew.

This year, we as a club will be using our theme 'Banned and Bard' as we explore and tell stories that have at one time raised eyebrows and rustled feathers, but have ultimately stayed the test of time to become seminal classics. Art has the express duty of reflecting our human experience, and that experience is full of turmoil, hardship and at its best moments, triumph. Even Shakespeare's works have been opposed throughout history, and yet even today their messages of empathy, and tales of hubris ring true.

We hope that you will enjoy our performance. It would not have been possible without the dedication and commitment to the students of our incredible staff of teaching artists. Ms. Katie Donovan, whose choreography will undoubtedly blow your mind and was a massive directorial element of our show, Mr. David Mosher, who moved mountains and vocal ranges to make our musicians bring their best selves on stage, Mr. Kevin Gerstner, who inspires independent and critical problem solving in our technicians and raises their ideas of what they are capable of, and Ms. Sue Brown who connects first and foremost with the students and strives to make them all feel like their best, most confident selves in their costumes. Performances like this one would not be possible without your talents and your love. Thank you from all of us for all that you do.

Something Rotten will always be a favorite musical, but this particular production of Something Rotten will always have a very special place in my heart. Thank you, as always, for your support of the performing arts, and enjoy the show.

thank you

Thank you to the RMHS Drama Club - and the many parent volunteers that it took to make Something Rotten a wonderful theatre experience for the students!

A huge shout-out to Natalie Cuhna, Katie Donovan, Lucy Boyden, David Mosher, Kevin Gertsner, and Sue Brown!

Many thanks to the local businesses who supported our program this year. Your contributions will go toward program enrichment and scholarships. View our program online!
